

Finding God In The Darkness

Slipping into darkness
Losing my hold on life
Everlasting darkness,
Consuming my mind
Ongoing sadness,
Clouding my thoughts
I'm slipping into darkness,
 the sadness overwhelms
Taking my spirit into the darkness of the Earth
A small light shines through Getting bigger and brighter as it shines
A small ray of hope, small ray of light
Slicing through the darkness and shadows
It's God's love shining through the hate Thought He had gone, thought He cared no more
In all the darkness a little light flourished
It rose up and became almighty it rose up to save me
What I thought had gone had been with me all along
He watched, made sure I didn't slip too far down
For if I did, He would save me
He saved me from the darkness, the shadows, the sadness
Just saved me

- Miranda Edan Rieckens
© 2008

