

HE SHALL WIN

The Holy Family came to Bethlehem
To find no room inside the village inn,
Where richer guests took little note of them
As they moved to the stable to begin
Their preparations for that holy night
When Jesus would be born to bless the earth
With peace. Wise men saw the starry light
That led them to His humble house of birth,
And shepherds made their way from singing hills
To bow in worship at the Savior's feet.
A Babe confronted by a world of ills
Seemed far too weak to challenge or compete...
And so it seems to many men today –
Yet He shall win and night shall pass away!
